Baldwin County Counts on Residents to Complete 2020 Census

MILLEDGEVILLE, GA – The Baldwin County Commission urges all residents to complete the 2020 Census. The Census can help shape the future of our community. Responses inform how much funding Baldwin County receives for vital public services. Residents have until Wednesday, September 30th to complete the 2020 Census.

A few fast facts on the 2020 Census:

- The census is a count of every person who lives in the United States and its territories. It occurs every 10 years.
- The 2020 Census takes just a few moments to complete. You are asked a few simple questions, like age, sex, and the number of people who live in your home, including children.
- Your responses to the 2020 Census are safe, secure, and protected by federal law. Your answers can only be used to produce statistics.
- Census results help determine where over $675 billion is distributed each year to communities nationwide for hospitals, clinics, schools, roads, and more.
- Census data gives community leaders important information to make decisions about maintaining public safety, preparing for emergencies, opening businesses, and planning for the future.
- Responses also determine the number of seats each state has in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Census data is so important to the future of Baldwin County. Your responses help determine the amount of funding that is given to the community every year, including federal funding for education and reducing class sizes in the public school system, support of the local hospital, affordable housing, social services, unemployment benefits, as well as transit, road and highway improvements.

No matter your reason, make sure you count! Take the Census online today at 2020census.gov. If you need help taking the Census, you can complete it in person through September 30th at the following locations:
